In these days of high social pressure and change, it is good to be a part of a Christian community that can work together to discern what God is calling us to do and be together. Come to practice this skill of discerning together God's call to our churches on the topics of our shared Lenten journey:

Feb. 22 "What is God up to in our gathering as Christian community?"

Mar. 1 "What is God up to when we listen to one another and to our community?"

Mar. 8 "What is God up to when we pray?"

Mar. 15 "What is God up to when we serve one another?"

Mar. 22 "What is God up to in Christian hope?"

Each discernment conversation will take place on Monday night at Wooddale Lutheran Church and will be hosted/led by Pat Taylor Ellison, a member of Wooddale and a teacher of this process from Church Innovations in St. Paul.
